PREFACE

1546625

I am indebted to a large number of sources for the information contained in the following pages, and have personally collected matter of importance, both in this country and in England.

There are, undoubtedly, some errors which have crept in, which I am ready to correct, but I am confident that John of Broughton was the ancestor of nine-tenths of the Beebe family in this country.

The line is replete with patriotic men who were instrumental in the founding and building up of our country.

Cromwell was at the zenith of his fame when the immigration began, and many restrictions were placed against leaving the mother country. Further investigation may develope the causes that impelled the exodus. I am sure we can congratulate ourselves on the fact that the name of Beebe was an honored one at the time and that it reflects credit because of the services rendered to our country by its bearers in those early days of the 17th century.

BEEBE GENEALOGY

Some tradition and facts concerning the origin of the name of Beebe.

It may please the ultra-enthusiast to know that the name apparently appears in records of remote antiquity, as seen in the following memoranda:

One of the Kings of the Second Dynasty in Egypt—date, something like 3000 years B. C., was:

Bebi, whose hieroglyphic is given in the table of Sakkarah, a monument discovered by M. Mariette, in Egypt. This table represents a priest named Tounars, rendering homage in the name of Rameses, II, to a series of 58 Kings belonging to the first six dynasties.

Again, in Book 21 of the History of Rome, by Livy, is related how one Quintus Bæbius, a man of advanced years, was sent as an Ambassador to Hannibal, and to the Carthagenian Senate, to demand peace or war—date, year of Rome, 534.

Coming to later times, there is a tradition of French origin which is very plausible. Ancient family papers, said to be in the archives of Aston Hall, Warwickshire, England, show that this family descended from the two Norman Knights, Richard, and William de Bœbe, who were of the Royal Guard of William the Conqueror and passed over to England at the time of the conquest and were by the King granted manors in Warwickshire, where the family lived up to the close of the Commonwealth.

During one of my visits to England in 1893, I took the opportunity to copy a portion of the ancient Norman Rolls, which are kept in the Tower of London, and which date from the reign of King John. I found there the name Willelmus Babbe, Præpositus, A. D., 1204. He, with four other jurors, adjudged the values of property.

One of the earliest authentic records of the family name I have found in Bridge's History of Northamptonshire, England, printed in 1740.

Under the heading of Town of Brackley, Sutton Hundred, occurs the following:—"Here was formerly an Infirmary or Hospital for the sick, dedicated to St. Leonard. From 1291 to 1417, it was governed by masters, one of which was Joh. Beby, February 10, 1403."

At East Farndon, Joh. Beby was incumbent of the Church of St. John Baptist, sometime between the years of 1398 and 1411. At Castre is a church dedicated to St. Kyneburga. Within the porch of this church, around the moulding of the south door is cut in wood, this inscription:

Ricardus Beby, Rector
Ecclesie de Castre, Fecit Fieri.

To those interested in knowing that one branch of the family has the right and title to a Coat of Arms, below will be found a description of same as found in Burke's Encyclopedia of Heraldry:

A blue shield with golden chevron and three gold bees.

Crest:—A golden beehive, indicative of industry, vigilence and persistency of purpose.

Motto:—So Defendendo.

Arms:—Dilley (Willey) Court, England.

The founder of this family was a Non-Conformist Chaplain to the regiment of Colonel Knight in (Geo.) Monk's (i. e., Duke of Albermarle) army about A. D., 1640.

The church register of St. Andrew's, in the village of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, dating from 1560, verify the names of John Beebe 1, and his children who emigrated to this country about the year of 1650, as stated in his Will, on file in Hartford, Connecticut.

Probably ninety-nine per cent. of the family in this country descended from the three sons of this John 1, to wit: John 2, Samuel 4 and James 9.

They were probably all puritans and were known in England as husbandmen or yeomen. They landed in Boston Harber and, working their way westward, were influential in the settlement of New London, Connecticut. From this place the family branched out in all directions.

Individuals of the family were prominent in King Philip's War, especially John (2), who with his men marched through the wilderness and relieved the soldiers of Major Talcott on the Connecticut River.

The family of Samuel (4) became large land owners and intermarried with well-to-do families. The name is found among the Minute Men of '76, and in the armies of the Revolution, as officers and enlisted men. Special services under General Washington were rendered by a descendant of John (2).

The pension rolls of the Revolution contain a number of names of the family. Bezaleel Beebe was especially prominent in that war, and James, a descendant of James (2), became a member of the Order of the Cincinnati.

In 1775 a descendant of John (2), (Martin), prepared with others a memorial to Congress, recommending the passage of a Declaration of Independence.

The name is variously spelled in the same document:

BEEBE, BEBY, BEEBY, BEEBEE.

John Beebe, who immigrated to this country in 1650, died on shipboard and left a will in which mention is made of his children, and of the fact that he came from Broughton, Northamptonshire, England. I had the pleasure of visiting this quaint old English village in June, 1893, and verified from the church records the names of John, his wife's Christian name Rebecca, and those of his children, as well as the dates of their birth.

To reach Broughton from Liverpool the train must be taken to the city of Northampton, where cars are changed for Kettering, the principal town of the district in which Broughton is situated. At Kettering the name of Beebe is still a familiar one in the neighborhood. The village of Broughton, a few miles from Kettering, is a large, straggling, old-fashioned one, situated partly in hollows and partly on elevated knolls. There were probably not more than two or three of its hundred houses which were not thickly covered with thatch. The Church of St. Andrew, an ancient building, was naturally the most prominent to the view, situated in the center of the village, and surrounded by the luxuriant foliage. Approaching it the roadway is actually embowered by the trees on either side. The church combines the Norman, early decorated and perpendicular styles. It includes chancel, nave, aisles and north and south porches. It also has a town clock and a chime of five bells. The church was rebuilt in 1828, and the whole church thoroughly restored in 1854. It contains a beautifully carved stone font, of the perpendicular period, 1600. The living is the gift of the Duke of Buccleuch. The Church Registers date from 1500. The surrounding church-yard is replete with moss-grown memorials of the past. The Registers are kept securely in an iron box in the crypt of the church. They are in a bad state of preservation and crumbling with age, Abstracts of wills from the Archdeaconry Court at Northampton indicate that the Beebes mentioned were not conspicuous people, but were styled "Yeomen," "Labourer" and "Shoemaker." Little Addington, in Northamptonshire, furnishes its quota of Beebe's. The register of its church commences about 1588, and an early record is the marriage of Henry Bebe with Millicent Rands, May 13, 1641.

The name Beebe may have had its origin in two Norman knights who originally spelled the name de Boébé. The "de" was eventually dropped after coming to England, the name being Anglicised to its present spelling Beebe.

From the learned researches of John Thorpe, an old authoritative chronicler and Herald of Duddeston, Warwickshire, England, we have a clear account of the relation and history of this family from their ancient home in the Valle de Saive, Normandy, France, up to 1669 in Warwick county, England, when John, Nathaniel and Eli Beebe emigrated to the colonial province of York. Ancient family papers in the archives of Aston hall show that this family descended from the Norman knights Richard and Guilliaume de Boébé who were of the Royal guard of William the Conqueror and passed over to England at the time of the conquest and were by the king granted manors at Bordesley in the county of Warwick, England, where the family lived from the time of the Norman conquest up to the close of the commonwealth.

During the Parliamentary wars John Beebe, of Duddeston Hall, county of Warwick, with two sons, having ardently stood by the popular cause against the tyranny of the royal Stuarts fighting first under Essex and Hampden, subsequently with desperate resolution through all of Cromwell's campaigns were at the restoration of the Monarchy exposed to persecution by the court officials. They were summoned by the king's governor of Warwick to take an oath of allegiance to the regime, but such being a military court they denounced its right there, defiantly refusing to be bound by any oath commanded by an unlawfully constituted perity of the Beebe family and others who had fought for contumacy in money and estate, three cadets of the family with John Beebe and the yoemen, Richard Rathbone, Thomas Clifton and Henry Clinton at once emigrated to the province of York and settled upon estates within the royal demesne. Subsequent to the settlement within the royal province of York another branch settled at Roxbury, Mass. They held correspondence with the noble and liberal Lord Stanley and Henry Fairfax of Durham, two noblemen who felt a deep interest in the welfare and prosperity of the Beebe family and others who had fought for constitutional freedom during the great struggle of the Parliamentary wars.

These letters and the manuscript of the Beebe family, colonial and home, were preserved by William Watt, Esq., lord of the manor of Aston in the archives of Aston Hall, Warwickshire.

The motto of the family of Beebe, granted by Henry V. to Sir John Beebe for distinguished gallantry at the siege of Harfleur, and presented by the king upon a gold shield, is in Norman French: Fidele et Brave—Faithful and Brave.

JOHN BEEBE (1)

It is a fact that John Beebe left England for this country in the month of April or May, 1650. From all the data at hand he was accompanied by his five children, viz.: Thomas (4), Nathaniel (6), James (9), Rebecka (3), and Mary (7), and that his two sons, John (2) and Samuel (5), had preceded him to America a few months. His daughter Hannah (8) and his wife, Rebecka, are not mentioned in his will, which was written and signed on shipboard. They probably had died before the voyage was undertaken. The eldest child, John (2), was but 22 years of age, and the youngest, Mary, 13 years of age at this time. It is presumed that John (1) died on the same day as that on which the will was made, viz., May 18th, 1650. Below is a copy of this will, given as nearly as possible verbatim:

The Will of John Beebe (1).

JOHN BEEBE (2), son of 1,

of New London, Conn., was baptized in Broughton, England, November 4th, 1628. He married Abigail Yorke (born about 1638), daughter of James Yorke, of Stonington, Conn., before December, 1660, probably not long before. She died March 9, 1725. Her father may have been the James Yorke, aged 21, who sailed from England June 20, 1635, in the ship "Philip Richard," Morgan, master. He was Sergeant of the Train-Band for twenty years, and in the summer of 1676 we find Ensign John Beebe, of New London, in the company of Capt. George Denison, which was raised in New London county, for the Indian War. He was a Lieutenant in 1690. In a dispute between the people of New London and those of Lyme, over the right to mow grass on debatable land, the New London men approached, and swinging their scythes began to mow, when the Lyme men and the constable drew nigh, the latter with a warrant for the apprehension of Ensign Minor, which he began to read, when Sergeant Beebe interrupted him, crying out, "We care not a straw for your paper." A melee followed, but it was terminated without serious injury to either party.

In 1671-2 he was one with many others in New London presented to the Court "for an attempt to drive Mr. Matthew Griswold and Lieut. William Waller by violence off their lands, resistance to authority and assault." He probably had been for some time in the plantation of New London, in the service of John Winthrop, the founder. He came to New England in 1650, and among the lands granted to him were one acre on September 4th, 1651. Five acres, December 2nd, the same year, and lots of ten, seven and six acres March 5th the next year. Other grants came later on. He deeded thirty-one acres to his son, Benjamin, 1707, and was perhaps deceased by April 28th, 1714, when the same deed was recorded. In a deed dated 1660, he was described as a Leather Dresser.

He is mentioned as being among the grantees or planters of the Town of New London, Conn., at the flood time of increase, 1651. House lots were given him in the Spring of that year. He had a small portion of land laid out to him in Poquiogh, and also at Fog Plain, about two miles out. In 1652 he was granted land east of the Mystic. In 1675 he was appointed Ensign by the General Court, in Captain George Denison's Company in New London county, over the 68 men raised in that county May 11, 1676, for the standing army, and a part of the 350 men raised in the Colony of Connecticut. In June, 1676, during King Phillips War, he went on several military expeditions against the Indians, to Rhode Island, to Taunton and beyond Westfield, on the road to Albany. On one of these expeditions he went up the Connecticut River by water to Northampton, and from there joined Major Talcot with supplies, of which the army was in prime need. He was living at New London, January 21, 1707-8 Their children were John (10), Benjamin (11), and Rebecca (12).

REBECCA BEEBE (3), daughter of 1.

was baptized at Broughton, England, on August 11th, 1630. She was the second child of John and Rebecca Beebe. It is recorded that she married John Rusco, of Norwalk, Conn., at Hartford, January 2nd, 1650. This date is probably wrong and should be 1651, or she had come from England before her father, who sailed in May, 1650. It is known that in 1672 she had five children.

THOMAS BEEBE (4), son of 1, was born in Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, where he was baptized June 23rd, 1633. He was a twin brother with Samuel. He probably accompanied his brother to New England, in 1650, although supposed to have come to New London, Conn., with the so-called Eastern or Cape Ann Company from Marshfield and Gloucester, Mass., with their pastor, Rev. Mr. Blinman, who was originally from Chepstowe, Monmouthshire. Land was granted him in New London, Conn., September 1st, 1651, and at several times afterwards. His wife was Millicent, daughter of William Addis. She had had two husbands previously, William Southmayd, and William Ash, at Gloucester, and had moved to New London about 1650. She married Thomas Beebe, certainly before 1663, for one of her daughters, by him, was married in 1680. Thomas Beebe had a barque of from 12 to 20 tons, named Speedwell, built for him by Mould & Coit, about 1660-1664. He was made a freeman of the Colony in 1666, and was of a committee of seven to fortify New London against King Philip in 1675. In February, 1677, he acted on a building committee to procure timber for a new Meeting House, and in November, 1683, he was one of a committee in behalf of the town, to send a letter by Captain Winthrop to Messrs. Mather and Willard, ministers at Boston, for advice and counsel in "attayning" a minister for the town. In 1690 he was appointed to assign seats in the church and the same year succeeded his brother, John, as Sergeant. He died early in 1690. His children were Thomas (13), Rebecca (14), Hannah (15) and Millicent (16).

SAMUEL BEEBE (5), son of 1, was twin brother to Thomas, and baptized with him at Broughton, England, 23rd June, 1633. He came to New England in 1650 and settled at New London, Conn., where land was granted him December 2nd, 1651, as well as several times afterwards. In 1708 he testified that he and his brother made the fence to Mr. Winthrop's ox-pasture "sixty years since." This expression must be understood to mean about sixty years as he could not have been in New London earlier than the summer of 1650. The same or a greater inexactness characterized his statements as given by Miss Caulkins, in her History of New London, that his age was 77 in the year 1698, for his years at that time were actually 65. Miss Caulkins assigns him as wife, first Agnes, daughter of William Keeney, and second, Mary. Where she sepaks of William Keeney, she says his daughter Mary married Samuel Beebe, and that her age in 1662 was 22. A deed recorded in New London, and dated May 8th, 1716, was from Mary Beebe, now resident of Colchester, and relict of Samuel Beebe, late of New London, deceased, and conveyed to Samuel Fox, of New London, for a valuable sum of money, land in New London, "originally granted to William Keeney." He probably moved to Plum Island and died there early in 1712 as administration was granted on his estate, April 6th, 1712, to his widow, Mary, and his son, Samuel, of Southold, Long Island. Their children were: Samuel (17), Susannah (18), William (19), Agnes (20), Nathaniel (21), Ann (22), Jonathan (23), Mary (24) and Thomas (25).

NATHANIEL BEEBE (6), son of 1, was baptized at Broughton, England, January 23rd, 1635. He came to New England and settled in New London, Conn., with his brothers before 1650. Land was granted to him and he settled in Stonington, Conn., before 1670. He would appear to have done some military service during King Philip's War, for the General Assembly in May, 1776, directed that "Nath. Beeby" and certain others should be allowed "to take to themselves those gunns now in their hands in part of wages due to them from the country." He was constable in Stonington in 1678. There is no evidence that he was ever married. Miss Caulkins states that his land was apparently absorbed in the large estates of his neighbors, the Denisons, and that William Denison in his Will, dated 1715, "disposes of the Beebe land," but adds: "I order my executors to take a special care of Mr. Nathaniel Beeby, during his life, and to give him a Christian burial at his death." He died December 17th, 1724, aged 93, according to his tombstone, but only 89 years from the date of his baptism.

MARY BEEBE (7), daughter of 1, was baptized at Broughton, England, on March 18th, 1637.

HANNAH BEEBE (8), daughter of 1, who probably remained in England, was baptized at Broughton, June 23rd, 1640.

JAMES BEEBE (9), son of 1, was probably baptized at Broughton, England, in the year 1641. A search of the church record failed to discover his name. He was undoubtedly the youngest of the famous "Beebe Brothers." He probably accompanied his father to New England, in 1650, when but 9 years of age. Not many years after he is found at Hadley, Mass., where he remained for more than 25 years. He was apprenticed by William Lewis, overseer of his father's Will to Thomas Stanley, of Hartford and Hadley. Stanley in his will bequeathed five pounds "unto James Beebe my servant to be paid unto him a'ft he hath p'formed that tyme of service wch was promised by William Lewis, that he is to be with me until he is 20 and 5 years old." In 1679 he was a resident of Stratford, Conn., but soon removed to Norwalk, and thence to Danbury. Here he was appointed to sundry offices, being a Commissioner in 1691, a Lieutenant in 1696, a Justice of the Peace, for many years from 1698, a Deputy to the General Assembly, in 1710, and Captain of the Train Band, from 1716. He married, first, at Hadley, October 24th, 1668, Mary, daughter of Robert Boltwood. She was the mother of his three older children, and died August 19th, 1676. He married, second, at Norwalk, Conn., December 19th, 1679, Sarah, daughter of Thomas Benedict. He lived to a good old age, and died at Danbury, Conn., April 22nd, 1728, aged 87 years, as recorded on his tombstone. This stone was seen by Rev. Thomas Robbins and referred to in a century sermon in 1801. Their children were Mary (26), James (27), Rebecca (28), Samuel (29), Mary (30), Sarah (31), James (32).

JOHN BEEBE (10), son of 2,
of New London, Conn., was born probably about 1661. He gave deeds of land in New London, in 1687, 1688 and 1690. These two last deeds were to Richard Shaw, his sister Rebecca's husband. They were not put on record until June, 1696, and as no further mention of this John Beebe has been found it may be that he died unmarried early in that year. Other investigators have concluded that he married about 1680, leaving the following children: Joseph (33), Mary (34), Stephen (35), Jerusha (36), and another child.

BENJAMIN BEEBE (11), son of 2, was born about 1663 in New London, Conn., and was baptized July 9th, 1693, in New London, at the First Church. He was married before August 4th, 1695, when he and his wife owned the Covenant and had a child baptized (Hannah). His wife was possibly named Hannah Wheeler. He died about 1752. Their children were:

Hannah (37), Benjamin (38), John (39), Ebenezer (40), Rebeckah (41), Zaccheus (42), Joanna (43), Clement (44), and possibly James (45).

REBECCA (12), daughter of 2,
was born about 1665. Miss Caulkins states that she married Richard Shaw, of East Hampton, Long Island. This marriage took place very probably in the spring of 1688, for on the 21st July, 1688, John Beebe (2) conveyed a certain half of a house and lot to Richard Shaw.

THOMAS (13), son of 4,
was born between 1652 and 1672. He was a cripple and lived to old age. According to Miss Caulkins he was unmarried. He was living on June 30th, 1727, and died as stated by Savage the same year. It may be noted that a Thomas Bebe made a profession of faith and was baptized March 11th, 1715, at New London, Conn.

REBECCA (14), daughter of 4,
was born between 1652 and 1672. She married Nathaniel Holt, son of William Holt, of New Haven, Conn., April 5th, 1680, at New London. She died in March or June, 1680. Their children were: William, born July 15th, 1681, and Nathaniel, born July 18th, 1683. They inherited from their grandfather and their uncle valuable property in New London, and both of them signed the agreement of 1727.

HANNAH (15), daughter of 4,
"owned the covenant" and was baptized July 9th, 1693, at New London, Conn. She married John Hawke, January 16th, 1698-9, at New London, and probably died in 1727, as an agreement about the disposal of her father's estate, dated June 30th, 1727, is signed by James Hawke, of New London, and Zebulon King, and Almy, his wife, of Southold, and Hannah Hawke, of Southold, but her own signature is lacking.

MILLICENT (16) daughter of 4, married Nicholas Darrow. The only Nicholas Darrow named by Miss Caulkins or by Mr. Savage was born in 1683, and must have been several years younger than Millicent. She lived to sign the Agreement of 1727, "Millison Darrow."

SAMUEL (17), son of 5,
was born about 1660-62. He married on February 9th, 1681, at New London, Elizabeth, daughter of James Rogers, Sen. of New London, who was thought by Miss Caulkins to be "that passenger" in the Increase, from London, 1635, aged 20 years, and was at Stratford. He was the richest man in New London, after Governor Winthrop. He opposed Infant Baptism, 1661-8. Elizabeth was born 1658. Samuel became a prominent Landholder, and lived on Plum Island, of which he owned a third part. He was called "King Beebe" and "Lord of the Isles." A rock in the sea nearby was called "Beebe's Throne." His wife died June 10th, 1716, aged 56-7. She was a woman of great energy of character (see Epitaph in Thompson's History of Long Island, 2nd edition, page 386).

In 1713 and 1714, being of Southold, he sold land in Nawayunk (Noank), to James Morgan, Nehemiah Smith and Edward Yeoman, all of Groton. A deed is on record at Lyme, 7th book, page 384, dated 20th July, 1738, in which he distributed to his children and grandchildren, a tract of land about 8 miles square, on the Connecticut River. Also a deed of 4,000 acres additional which he purchased of "Awonneco" and with the consent of Captain John Mason.

His will was dated 1741, and proved probably in New York, in 1742. It is now in the New York Surrogate's office. He was buried in Plum Island.

In 1685 Samuel Beebe, Jr., was whipped for profaning the Sabbath, by servile work. About 1692, he with others attacked the government and colony, accusing them of persecution of dissenters, etc., compelling people to pay Presbyterian ministers, as against the laws of England. On a tombstone in Orient, Suffolk County, N. Y., may be found the following:

"Here lyes Elizabeth, once Samuel Beebe's wife,
"Who once was made a living soul, but now deprived of life.
"Yet firmly did believe that at her Lord's return,
"She should be made a living soul in her own shape and form,
"Lived 4 and 30 years a wife was aged 57.
"Has now layd down this mortal life in hopes to life in Heaven.
"June ye 10, 1716."

On July 20th, 1738, Samuel Beebe was of Southold, County of Suffolk, Colony of New York, on Island of Nassau, Yeoman. The land deeded to him, 8 miles square, was about 12 miles up and near the Connecticut River. Granted by Captain Sauny, of Nikantick, to Major John Talcut, Col. John Allen, Major Edward Palmer, Mr. Henry Wallcut, Mr. Matthew Griswold, and Mr. Cany Latham, which grant was confirmed by the General Court at Hartford.

Volume 6, Folio 38 of Private Controversies in State Library, Hartford, states: Elizabeth, wife of Samuel Beebe, of Long Island and Southold, was daughter of James Rogers, of New London, whose will of November 11th, 1683, names his children.

Volume 1, Folio 114, of the records of the Prerogation Court at New London, states: April 9th, 1712, Samuel Beebe, of Southold, Long Island, presented the will of his father Samuel Beebe, dated, November, 1702. John Daniels and Thomas Crocker, son-in-law of deceased, with James Rogers. Said Beebe had executed a later will, which later will Samuel Beebe said his mother had burnt at his father's request. Will was not admitted to probate but administration was granted to Mrs. Mary Beebe and Samuel Beebe, his son.

Volume 1, Folio 123, states: September 9th, 1712, distribution of the estate of Samuel Beebe, of Southold, made to his widow, to his eldest son, Samuel, who received a double share and to his other children. He transferred land in Southold, L. I., in 1707, and exchanged land with Samuel King. He owned land ajoining John Tuthill.

On November 11th, 1714, Samuel Beebe deeded to his daughter, Bathsheba King, wife of William King, Jr., of Southold, L. I., a part of her portion a piece of meadow land, etc., at Oyster Ponds, Lower Neck. This deed was witnessed by David and Hannah King. In November, 1727, Samuel Beebe deeded to David King, husband of his daughter Hannah (certain meadow lands * * *), which was witnessed by William King, Jr., and James Beebe.

His children, recorded at New London but perhaps born at Plum Island: Elizabeth (46), Mary (47), Bathsheba (48), Rebecca (49), Hopestill (50), Patience (51), Hannah (52), Samuel (53), James (54).

SUSANNAH (18), daughter of 5, was born about 1663. She married Aaron Fountain, about 1680. In December, 1681, Samuel Beebe gave to "my son-in-law, Aaron Fountain, certain land to be for his wife's use." Fountain's later history is unknown.

WILLIAM (19), son of 5, was born perhaps about 1665, and died about 1750.

Miss F. M. Caulkins says that he married Ruth, daughter of Jonathan Rogers, and became a Sabbatarian at Great Neck. She was born about 1678, and was living March 22nd, 1715. As Jonathan Rogers was born in 1655, his daughter Ruth could hardly have been marriageable before 1693. The children are placed here by conjecture, as no statement of their parentage has been found. Some of the younger children, as Lydia and Ezekial, and less probably Mary, might have been children of Nathaniel Beebe, who married Elizabeth Wheeler, July 2nd, 1697. Stephen and Mary were witnesses to a deed of William and Ruth, March 22nd, 1715, Stephen's eldest daughter was named Ruth. There is no evidence that Joseph belongs here, except that there seems to be no other place for him, unless by very improbable supposition he was son of John 10.

Their names are given in their order of marriage. The two first are supposed to be by a first wife: Joseph (55), Samuel (56), Stephen (57), Mary (58), William (59), Ezekial (60), Lydia (61).

AGNES (20), daughter of 5, was born in New London, about 1667. According to Judge Savage she married John Daniels of New London, Dec. 3rd, 1685, at New London. Their children born at New London were eight in number.

NATHANIEL (21), son of 5, was born about 1667-70. He married Elizabeth Wheeler, at New London, July 2nd, 1697. She was perhaps the daughter of John and Elizabeth Wheeler, of New London. He was director of the temporary guard set at Fisher's Island, in 1712, and on September 2nd, of that year, 10 shillings was ordered by the General Assembly, to be paid him for his services. There is no evidence that he had any children. On October 1st, 1722, he and Elizabeth, his wife, gave to John Richards, of New London, for 56 pounds sterling, a deed of a house and land in New London. A. Nathaniel, of "Scotch descent," died in New London, Conn., about the year 1769. He had four children: Lucy, John, Richard and Nathaniel. A. Nathaniel Bebee, Jr., and wife Lydia had a son baptized in New London August 8th, 1731, named Joshua.

ANN (22), daughter of 5, was born in New London about 1672. She married Thomas Crocker, April 23rd, 1700. He died in 1754.

JONATHAN (23), son of 5, was born at New London, probably in 1674. His ear-mark for cattle was recorded at New London, August 9th, 1696. He settled at Millington, Conn., near the northeast corner of Long Pond, in East Haddam, coming from New London, as early as 1704, after the first settlement, and was a man of consequence in the town. He also owned land in Colchester, for in 1710 at a town meeting of Colchester it was "further granted to J. Beebe to remove the bounds of his farm further northward so as to bring the part into Colchester bounds." He died October 12th, 1761, aged 87, in East Haddam, Conn. He married Bridget, daughter of Wolston and Hannah (Briggs) Brockway, who was born at Lyme, January 9th, 1671-72. She died at East Haddam, April 5th, 1756. It is probable, but not certain, that she was his first wife, and the mother of his children. He afterwards married Widow Elizabeth Staples, of Millington, October 4th, 1759. "Each aged about 80 years."

He was a large land holder as the records of Lyme show. The dates of purchase and sale of lands are from 1738 to 1743 and so on. See Fields' History of East Haddam, Conn., page 47. For the children below authority is mainly from a letter of Mr. D. Williams Patterson: Jonathan (62), William (63), Joshua (64, Caleb (65).

MARY (24), daughter of 5, was born in New London, about 1678. She married Richard Tozer, of New London and Haddam, April 8th, 1702. She died before 1712.

THOMAS (25), son of 5,
was born perhaps about 1682. The ear-mark of his cattle was recorded at New London August 5th, 1712, "a croppe and half croppe on the off-ear which was his father Samuel Beebe's ear-mark." On September 2nd, 1714, he bought land in Colchester of Evans Jones, and sold the same to John Lewis of Lyme, December 20th, 1720. In 1725 he was of Haddam. In the deed of December 20th, 1720, his wife Anna is mentioned. He married Anna Hobson at New London December 17th, 1707. Their children were: Edward (66), Agnes (67), Peter (68).

MARY (26), daughter of 9,
was the daughter of James (9) by his first wife. She was born at Hadley, Mass., August 18th, 1668. She died young.

JAMES (27), son of 9,
was born January 3rd, 1669, and died young.

REBECCA (28), daughter of 9,
was born December 8th, 1670, at Hadley.

SAMUEL (29), son of 9,
was born in Hadley, Mass., June 26th, 1672. He died in Litchfield, Conn., about 1731. He married, in Danbury, Hannah, who was born in 1672, and died in Canaan, Conn., November 16th, 1766. He moved from Hadley, with his father, before 1678, and to New Milford, in 1715. He removed from New Milford to Litchfield in 1720, when the town was laid out. He and his wife are recorded in New Milford as members of the First Church, of that town. He was one of those designated to aid in building the "West Fort" in Litchfield in August, 1723. He was one of three who presented a statement, dated May 24th, 1725, concerning the petition of two men named Watson and Woodruff to the legislature for a bounty for having shot an Indian during the preceding summer while in the King's service, at Litchfield. He is mentioned as of lawful age, alluding to the place "where we had the fight." He built the first frame house that was set up in Litchfield. His son began the settlement of the town of Canaan, Conn. Children: Mary (69), Ebenezer (70), Samuel (71), James (72), John (73), Sarah (74), Hannah (75).

MARY (30), daughter of 9,
was born in 1675.

SARAH (31), daughter of 9,
was born at Norwalk, Conn., November 13th, 1680.

JAMES (32), son of 9,
was probably born in Norwalk, Conn., about 1682. According to the History of Stratford, page 1142, he married Abigail, daughter of Samuel and Mary (Wharton) Sherman, Jr., of Stratford, December 22nd, 1708, and died in Danbury, Conn., in the year 1750. He was the second Justice of the Peace of Danbury, succeeding his father. He was a Captain of the Militia, and Deacon of the Church, as his father was before him. He aided in the settlement of Canaan, Conn. In the Probate Records of Danbury, the will of Captain James Beebe speaks of his wife as Jane ——. Children: Lemuel (76) James (77), Joseph (78), David (79), Jonathan (80), Sarah (81), Abigail (82).

JOSEPH (33), son of 10, was born about 1684. He married Elizabeth Graves, December 26th, 1706. She was born April 16th, 1671. They had nine children. If he was not a son of William, he must have been a son of John 10, of whom there is nothing recorded to show that he ever had a wife or child. A confusion exists as to his wife's name, for the New London record has it that "Joseph Beebe and Elizabeth Graves were married December 26th, 1706;" while the wife's name is given as Mehitable in the record of his children's birth and baptisms. The readiest explanation is that she was Mehitable Graves, and that the clerk in recording the marriage mistook the name. In support of this explanation it may be said that the name Mehitable carelessly pronounced might be misunderstood, Elizabeth. Rebecca Graves married Jonathan Daniells December 12th, 1706. This marriage is the next one on the book before Joseph Beebe's, a circumstance that suggests the guess that the two brides were sisters. A history of the Graves Family, in preparation, 1895, confirms Elizabeth's marriage to Joseph, December 26th, 1706. The record at New London gives the children as Joseph (83), Jonathan (84), Ephraim (85), Stephen (86), David (87), Elisha (88), Simeon (89), Abigail (90), Mehitable (91).

MARY (34), daughter of 10,
was born in 1686. She married John Stedman, July 29th, 1706.

STEPHEN (35), son of 10, was of New London. His earmark for cattle was recorded December 27th, 1723. He married Mary Leach, at New London, November 16th, 1716. Their children were: Ruth (92), Abigail (93), Amos (94), Reuben (95), and possibly another child, name unknown.

JERUSHA (36), daughter of 10.
She married probably ——— Fuller, of Colchester.

HANNAH (37), daughter of 11,
was baptized in New London, August 4th, 1695. She married David Crocker, December 3rd, 1722, at New London. They had a daughter Mary, born February 15th, 1724.

BENJAMIN (38), son of 11.
was baptized in New London, July 25th, 1696. He married Jane Plumley of New London, December 12th, 1720. His earmark for cattle was recorded at New London May 8th, 1725. Nothing more has been found concerning him.

was baptized at New London, December 7th, 1701. He settled in Colchester when a young man. He went in July, 1724, on a military expedition into Hampshire, taking Sergeant Joseph Jos. Pratt's gun was presst for the Publique Service and was terwards. From Colchester Records of Births, &c., No. 1, page 50, is found the following memorandum: July 3rd, 1724, "Sergt. Jos. Pratt's gun was present for the Publique Service and was then aprized by Jos. Wright and Nathan M. Cahoon, and judged to be worth fivety shillings money, and was delivered to John Beebe, who was going into the service into the County of Hampshire. Also Hatchett belonging to Azariah Pratt (page 191)."

He was made freeman in Colchester September 3rd, 1739. On March 27th, 1738, he bought at the sale of Windham Court House a share in the new town of Kent, and moved to Kent, it would seem the next year. He was Constable in Kent, 1739 and 1743. On May 28th, 1754, he sold out his house and land in Kent, to Peter Curtiss, 52 acres for 1700 pounds sterling, and went probably at that time to Amenia, Dutchess County, New York, then called "Oblong." He certainly was living in Amenia in 1763, and tradition has it that he went thence to New Concord (New Chatham), or Canaan, Columbia County, N. Y., in 1764. He died in Canaan, July 15th, 1788. He married in Colchester, probably in 1726, or 1727, Ruth Pratt, daughter of Sergeant Joseph Pratt and Sarah, his wife. Ruth was born in Colchester, March 16th, 1706. She died at Canaan, N. Y., September 15th, 1794. Their children were: John (96), Hezekiah (97), Daniel (98), Martin (99), Ruth (100), Ann (101), Sarah (102), Trial (103), Chloe (104), Tryphena (105).

John Beebe,

AFTERWORD

It has been stated that John (1) was a son of John who was a son of Alexander, the former married Alice ———, and died in 1638 at Great Addington, England: the latter died at the same place in 1623:—

I followed this lead some time ago, and found nothing to verify the claim.

I hope to be able to trace our line back to a much earlier date, if I find sufficient encouragement from the many friends I have made during the compilation of this genealogy.

The future may warrant the publication of a completely revised work covering the personal history of many prominent members of the family, especially of Soldiers in the early and late wars.

Since compiling this Genealogy, I have compleated several additional lines to date.

I cordially invite criticism, suggestions and information to enable me to make this work as complete as possible.

THE AUTHOR.
